

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL SCHOOL, HAIFA, ISRAEL

Founded in 1868, St. John's Episcopal School in Haifa offers students a caring, academically challenging environment where deep mutual respect and love of learning lie at the heart the educational experience.

With about 500 students from Kindergarten through eighth grade, St. John's is a pathway for students to move to strong academic high schools and beyond. One exemplary project is the Peace Education project which deals with raising awareness among students about their rights, serving the community and conflict resolution.

SERVICES PROVIDED

Academic education for Grades K - 8

- Highly-regarded peace education program

Our goal is to generate a creative generation able to search, discuss, read, write and keep pace with the different developments around us. It is also in our agenda to teach our students how to cope and behave in a peaceful way in addition to respecting all human rights.

— Aziz D'eem

AT A GLANCE St. John's Episcopal School

- + Aziz D'eem, Headmaster
- + The oldest school in Haifa
- + St. John's peace curriculum has been honored by the Israel Department of Education
- + The Rt. Rev. Samir Kafity, Bishop in the Diocese of Jerusalem from 1984 to 1996, is an alumnus

Recent cuts in public subsidies to Christian schools by the Israel Department of Education place a high burden on families who wish to send their children to St. John's.
